Arizona	Economic Nexus	Yes	Remote sellers are required to register with the state if they only make non-taxable wholesale sales. Arizona requires remote sellers to register with the state if they meet the economic nexus threshold. A remote seller has economic nexus if in the previous year, or current year, the gross sales generated from direct sales into Arizona is more than the threshold amount. "Gross sales" refers to retail sales in the state. TTR has confirmed via phone call with the state that a vendor who meets the threshold must register even when all sales are wholesale sales.
Arkansas	Economic Nexus	No	Remote sellers are not required to register with the state if they only make wholesale sales. Arkansas's economic nexus rule applies when sellers make taxable sales that exceed the minimum threshold ($100,000 or 200 transactions per year).
California	Economic Nexus	No	No, these sellers are not required to register. California requires remote sellers to register with the state to collect and pay use tax if the seller ¹ is a retailer, and ² makes sales into California exceeding $500,000. "Retailer" means every seller who makes any retail sales of tangible personal property. "Retail sale" means a sale for a purpose other than resale in the regular course of business in the form of tangible personal property. The definition of "retail sale" excludes sales for resale, but does not exclude exempt sales. As a result, sellers that only make wholesale sales are not required to register if they make sales into California exceeding $500,000.

Are Remote Sellers Required to Register With the State if the Seller Only Makes Wholesale Sales?

STATE	CATEGORY	ANSWER	EXPLANATION
Kansas	Economic Nexus	No	Remote sellers would not need to register with the state for making wholesale sales. Kansas's laws state that a seller has nexus if it has "any other contact" that would allow Kansas to require the seller to remit tax under the U.S. Constitution. Kansas has interpreted this to mean that remote sellers have nexus if they make any taxable sale into the state. If the remote seller makes even a single taxable sale, then it must register to collect and pay tax, even if the remote seller mainly makes wholesale sales. Note that the Kansas Attorney General has released an opinion stating that this policy is not supported by law. The opinion has no legal force, but is noteworthy since it says the policy is likely invalid without the support of a statute or regulation.

Michigan has published guidance regarding remote sellers that says a seller has nexus with Michigan if it meets the minimum threshold ($100,000 in sales or 200 transactions). It states that both taxable and non-taxable sales should be used to determine whether the seller has met those minimum thresholds. Michigan has older guidance stating that it does not issue sales tax licenses to wholesalers. This indicates that those who make only exempt or wholesale sales are not required to register. Due to this conflicting guidance we have taken the conservative position that remote sellers must register even if the seller makes only exempt or wholesale sales.
